

Copyright notice for Geni.Energy

All content published on this website is © Geni.Energy. All Rights reserved. You may not copy, publish or transmit, reproduce, adapt, modify or distribute any of the content on this website, including files downloadable from this website, in whole or part without the written consent of Geni.Energy. All trade marks on this website are owned, or used under licence, by us. Nothing contained on this website should be construed as us granting You any licence or right to use or reproduce any of these trade marks.

We may change these terms from time to time. Check before re-using any content from this website.

Disclaimer for Geni.Energy

All information published on this website or in a publication contained on this website is for general information only and may not be used or relied on by any person. To the extent permitted by law, Geni.Energy disclaims any liability of any kind whatsoever to any reader of this website or a publication contained on this website who acts in reliance wholly or partly on the content of this website or publication. Users of this website should make their own enquiries and consider detailed information about anything discussed on this website before taking action based on or in reliance upon the content of the website.

If you would like to provide any feedback on the information please email hello@geni.energy.